Question 1

If the maximum roll is set for a lower roll than you have applied for, would you still wish to proceed with your application? What are the implications of a reduced roll?

Yes I would still wish to proceed. The implications would only be in terms of funding. I would just have to juggle funding around or find more partners to be able run all the courses that I want to run. Just need to be creative in terms of making the school a success in the first year in order to continue for future years and further schools around NZ
