I te tau 2021, i whakapuaki Te Tumu Whakarae mō te Mātauranga | Secretary for Education (Te Tumu Whakarae) i te whakatūnga o Te Poutāhū hei wāhanga o Te Mahau kia “... pakari ake ai, kia kauawhi ai hoki te ārahitanga, ngā pūkenga me te mahi tahi mō Te Marautanga o Aotearoa me Te Whāriki, otirā te rato i ngā pūkenga me ngā rauemi e kouna ai ngā whakaakoranga.” Nā reira ko tā mātou mahi he whakatinana i Te Poutāhū.

Hautū, Te Poutāhū

Message from the Hautū

Tēnā koutou kātoa

In writing this consultation document, I reflected on where Te Poutāhū | Curriculum Centre (Te Poutāhū) has come from and how much we have achieved in a relatively short space of time.

In 2016, Early Learning and Student Achievement (ELSA), the predecessor to Te Poutāhū, was a smaller group. About half of our people managed education workforce matters (teacher supply, scholarships, workforce strategy and bargaining), which now sit in Te Puna Ohumahi Mātauranga | Education Workforce. The other half of our people did everything else curriculum and assessment related.

Since 2016 we have worked hard to build a significant programme of important and transformative curriculum and assessment work. We have also seen a meaningful shift with the sector wanting more curriculum and assessment leadership, advice and support from Te Tāhuhu.

A clear call from the Independent Review of Tomorrow's Schools and agreed by Cabinet was to "...establish a nationally based Curriculum Centre to provide curriculum leadership and expertise... to enable effective delivery of the New Zealand Curriculum and Te Marautanga o Aotearoa for all learners/ākonga."

In 2021, Te Tumu Whakarae mo te Mātauranga | Secretary for Education (Te Tumu Whakarae) announced the establishment of Te Poutāhū as part of Te Mahau to "...provide strengthened and inclusive curriculum leadership, expertise and partnering for the New Zealand Curriculum, Te Marautanga o Aotearoa and Te Whāriki, as well as providing expertise and resources for quality teaching." From this, we are tasked with bringing Te Poutāhū to life.

Our purpose as Te Poutāhū

We lead the national curricula for Aotearoa New Zealand and associated systems and processes of assessment and aromatawai. We design, develop and provide curriculum services for teachers, kaiako, leaders, ākonga, their whānau and communities that reflect their identities, languages and cultures.

As part of Te Mahau, we work and partner with the profession, education experts, communities and iwi to provide the right products and services in the right way to our educators and education leaders so that:

- They are supported to deliver an equitable, inclusive and accessible curricula that reflects current understandings of effective teaching and learning
- They are supported to develop broad pathways for ākonga with key partners to support the transition of ākonga into tertiary education, vocational pathways or employment
- The education ākonga receive values what is important to them and their whānau and prepares them with the skills and experience they need to participate as global citizens in society.

Te Poutāhū also plays a critical role to support how the education system gives effect to te Tiriti o Waitangi, which ultimately supports all ākonga to reach their potential. This includes our own knowledge and behaviours and how we support and uplift educators' capabilities. We are committed to giving practical effect to te Tiriti o Waitangi to support ākonga to achieve equitable and excellent outcomes.

Our operating context

As Te Poutāhū, we are tasked with bringing a curriculum centre to life and delivering the largest investment in changes to curriculum and assessment in about 20 years. The work we do is front and centre for tens of thousands of educators and leaders, and will help shape the experience of education for the ākonga of today and tomorrow. We have an amazing opportunity to support a real and lasting difference in education, an opportunity that we must not squander. We need to do all we can to deliver the best outcomes possible through our work. The hope people have in the establishment of Te Poutāhū and the scale of our change programmes places us in a fundamentally different position to ELSA of 2016.

Why I am proposing change

I am incredibly proud of what we have achieved so far. Our strategic plan is strong, and I have already seen some fantastic examples of you putting this plan to life. However, not all aspects of our current structure are supporting us to deliver on the promise of Te Poutāhū and the major change programmes.

We are now a larger group within Te Mahau, are working with large injections of funding from the Government and are a key component of the shift towards more Te Tāhuhu-delivered curriculum and assessment supports. Our structural constraints leave some leaders with large spans of controls and fractured functional responsibilities, while other teams manage without all the capabilities and capacity they need.

We must keep the education sector at the centre of what we do. We need to work as one joined up Te Mahau so it is simpler and easier for the sector to engage and work with us, so implementation is done well and ultimately contributes to positive education outcomes. Integrating further in Te Poutāhū will support how we operate as Te Mahau to improve the sector's experience, trust and confidence in us.

We now have the opportunity to consider how we best organise ourselves to meet the new expectations for us as Te Poutāhū.

Summary

I am extremely proud of our achievements to date and the way we have worked so hard to respond to a fundamental change to our business.

In leading Te Poutāhū, I want you all to come to work and feel valued and supported to develop and use your skills and experience to best effect. I want you to feel supported to succeed with the work you lead and are a part of, with clear expectations and accountabilities and by being part of teams that have the full complement of capabilities that are needed.

We now need to make some changes to how we organise and operate so we can continue to progress in the future. This includes both structural and non-structural changes. I have worked closely with the other Te Mahau Hautū so that we are in step and can continue to support each other as we evolve and continue to work seamlessly into the sector.

We have huge opportunities to capitalise on as we look forward. It is the right time to reconfigure how we are structured and how our programmes are structured with the right mix of expertise and oversight. This change proposal is about having the right people with the right capabilities in the right roles, empowering us to work more effectively. It is not about reducing staff numbers or losing any of the great skills and capabilities we have in place. We are evolving to be more responsive, accessible and supportive for the education sector, and we are committed to continuous improvement for the curricula in the future.

Ellen MacGregor-Reid

Ngā huringa i ā tātou mahi me tō tātou tāera mahi | Shifts in what we do and how we work

The future state design for Te Poutāhū responds to the four shifts set out by Te Tāhuhu o te Mātauranga in the 2021 Decision Document.

This design is intended to build on changes to the way we work

The Establishing Te Mahau within Te Tāhuhu o te Mātauranga | Ministry of Education (May 2021) Decision Document outlined four substantive ways in which Te Tāhuhu is expected to change how we work. These are:

- Ngā tū mahi hei whakamana i te Tiriti o Waitangi | Taking practical action to give effect to te Tiriti o Waitangi
- Mātua ko te reo o te rohe me te haukāinga | Giving priority to regional and local voice
- Te whai kia kaha ake te uruparenga, te whai wāhitanga, me te tautoko tōpū | Delivering greater responsiveness, accessibility and integrated services and support
- Te whai kia pai ake te tukanga whakahoki kōrero, tuku kōrero hoki | Improving feedback loops and information flows

The proposed design intends to continue building on these key shifts.

We are committed to giving effect to te Tiriti o Waitangi

We are committed to supporting the intent of Te Tāhuhu to take practical action to deliver equitable and excellent outcomes through honouring te Tiriti o Waitangi.

Building on the expectations set out by Te Tumu Whakarae, Te Poutāhū needs to continue growing its capability to understand and give practical effect to te Tiriti o Waitangi. Realising our commitment to te Tiriti o Waitangi requires us to practice reasonable and honourable kāwanatanga, as set out in the Te Ara Whiti Māori Crown Relationship framework. Te Tāhuhu is taking meaningful steps towards honouring te Tiriti o Waitangi, consistent with its statutory obligations under the Education and Training Act (2020) and the Public Service Act (2020).

The proposal sets out to improve how Te Poutāhū delivers on its responsibility to support the provision of te reo Māori in education across early learning and schooling in pākehā and Māori medium education. It strengthens Te Uepū Reo Māori to lead the development and delivery of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa and support kaupapa Māori / Māori medium education pathways, so that Te Poutāhū is better able to deliver on this responsibility.

While Te Uepū Reo Māori is one of our key pou for mātauranga Māori, all units in Te Poutāhū continue to hold responsibility for upskilling their te ao Māori and te Tiriti o Waitangi capabilities. This responsibility is part of delivering on our Tiriti o Waitangi commitments and our purpose as Te Poutāhū.

Giving priority to regional and local voice

We need to prioritise the regional and local voice in our work and ways of working so our products and services directly meet the needs of the education sector in delivering excellent and equitable outcomes for ākonga.

The proposed design builds on our existing connections with Te Mahau through to the sector by situating teams together that actively engage with those close to the frontline (for example, Curriculum Leads and Sector Engagement). This intends to streamline how we listen and respond to the sector. It places greater emphasis on what the sector tells us about the effectiveness of our services and helps disseminate this across Te Poutāhū so we can adjust what we do accordingly.

Delivering greater responsiveness, accessibility and integrated services and support

We have received consistent feedback that the sector can find Te Tāhuhu siloed, confusing to navigate and not focused on how it interacts in a simple and effective way with the sector. As Te Poutāhū, we need to remember that aspects of our work end up being led by different teams, received by the same service or school but not always in a joined-up way.

The proposed design builds on our place as part of Te Mahau by establishing a new Strategy & Integration unit to be a clear integration point between Te Poutāhū, Te Pae Aronui and Te Mahau takiwā. It includes our sector engagement and integrated planning and monitoring functions (which plans, aligns and coordinates an integrated view of all Te Poutāhū work). The unit is designed to work with the wider Te Mahau to facilitate effective change and integration, so that all Te Mahau products and services are delivered in a coordinated way that does not overwhelm sector capacity to consume change. The intent is to streamline how we collectively engage as one Te Mahau to build closer, more responsive relationships with the sector.

There will be areas where other units will engage with the wider Te Mahau, but Strategy & Integration will be the primary connection point for Te Poutāhū.

Improving feedback loops and information flows

We need to continue improving the feedback loops and information flows to and from the education sector so that our work has maximum positive impact.

The proposed design consolidates the information and feedback functions that we have in Te Poutāhū and aligns them to connect with the Te Mahau takiwā through to the sector (for example, through the Directors of Education, Curriculum Leads, and Strategic Advisors Māori). This includes our key data and insights functions to organise how we request, collect, analyse and disseminate information behalf of Te Poutāhū.

The proposed design also places our information flow close to our strategy functions to improve how the feedback and information we receive from the frontline directly shapes our future direction.

Improving how we operate our curriculum and assessment change programmes

We must be grounded in the context of delivering major and highly complex change programmes: the NCEA Change Programme (NCEA Programme), the New Zealand Curriculum Refresh (NZC Refresh) and the redesign of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa (Te Marautanga Redesign). These programmes have grown from within Te Poutāhū, and a number of our people have been instrumental in shaping key programme outcomes. The programmes are long and complex, costly and are subject to a high degree of Ministerial and public scrutiny. To succeed, the programmes require the right mix of programme and project expertise combined with deep education expertise. We now have an opportunity to adapt how these change programmes are configured to give them the best chance of achieving their intended outcomes.

The proposed design establishes separate structures for the NCEA Programme, and the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign. At a high level, it is proposed that most of our people currently delivering for the change programmes will report to these programmes as required. After completing their relevant programme delivery requirements, some roles will return to their business-as-usual teams to manage and maintain curriculum and assessment.

It is also important to note the programmes' structures may evolve as they reach different phases of delivery. Other roles from Te Poutāhū may be required to join for a period of time as the programmes identify further project and capability needs.

The intent is to support our people to prioritise programme work, which has been challenging when balancing the dual responsibilities of both programme and business as usual work. It also intends for curriculum and assessment teams to focus more effectively on other business priorities including providing responsive, accessible curricula products and services.

If we do not adjust the NCEA Programme, NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign structures and look ahead at our future needs, many of our people will continue to be overcommitted and overwhelmed. Ultimately this will support our people and both programmes to deliver key outcomes according to Cabinet direction and what the education sector is telling us.

Tā mātou e tāpae nei me te take e tāpaetia ana | What we are proposing and why

A new structure that is organised to meet our purpose, deliver on our expectations and support our ways of working

As part of Te Mahau providing a more responsive, accessible and integrated local support function for early learning services and schools, we must organise ourselves coherently around the core functions that we set out to deliver. For Te Poutāhū, these include:

A new Strategy & Integration unit that develops the strategy on behalf of Te Poutāhū and connects across Te Poutāhū to deliver our strategic intent and purpose. It manages shared services that Te Poutāhū provides as a collective to the sector, supporting appropriate and equitable use across all education pathways and mediums and building sector capability to educate ākonga. It sets the direction for innovation and thought leadership that other units build on, sharing research and ideas to enable new initiatives to be agreed and operationalised for delivery. It monitors the effectiveness of products and services, and drives improvements in measures for equity, inclusivity, and iwi partnerships to support more responsive collaborative relationships with the sector.

Strategy & Integration is also the primary connection point for Te Poutāhū to align with Te Pae Aronui and the Te Mahau takiwā, supporting curriculum delivery and integrated work plans to sequence change effectively into the sector.

A Curriculum Pathways & Progress unit that focuses on designing curriculum products and services for the New Zealand Curriculum and Te Whāriki. Curriculum, Pathways & Progress (CPP) will also support Early Learning, Pacific Learning, and change and implementation of new business processes and practice models for curriculum development.

A strengthened Te Uepū Reo Māori unit responsible for supporting the provision of te reo Māori in education across early learning and schooling in both pākehā and Māori medium education. It will support kaupapa Māori / Māori medium education pathways across all schooling ages.

A formal NZC Refresh and Te Matauranga o Aotearoa Redesign structure that is reorganised to meet the programme outcomes as directed by Cabinet. This combines the programme expertise needed to manage the programme effectively with the deep technical education expertise to deliver high-quality curriculum updates.

This structure creates an operating environment for strong programme governance, management and discipline where the primary focus and priority is to deliver timely, quality work for the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign. However, in some instances, where appropriate and agreed by programme leadership, people working in the programme can support business as usual work in Strategy & Integration, CPP and Te Uepū Reo Māori.

The NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign would be formed from some existing resources in CPP and Te Uepū Reo Māori (more detail about this is outlined in the impact tables). Roles which transfer to the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals.

It is also important to note the structure of the programmes evolve as they reach different phases of delivery. Other roles from across Te Poutāhū may be required to join for a period as the programmes identify further project and capability needs.

A Secondary Tertiary unit that continues to focus on increasing achievement and improving retention and progression of secondary-school aged rangatahi into further learning, training or work. Secondary Tertiary supports the provision of a range of learning opportunities including making better use of the education network for schools, as well as creating the link to clear pathways from school to work and further study or training.

A further formalised NCEA Programme structure to meet the programme outcomes as directed by Cabinet. This combines programme expertise needed to manage the programme effectively with the deep education expertise needed to deliver high-quality updates. This structure creates an operating environment for strong programme governance, management and discipline where the primary focus and priority is to deliver timely, quality work for the NCEA Programme. However, in some instances where appropriate and agreed by programme leadership, our programme people can support business as usual work in Secondary Tertiary.

The NCEA Programme would be formed from existing Secondary Tertiary teams delivering the NCEA Programme (more detail about this is outlined in [here\[hyperlink to NCEA programme page\]](#)). People who hold roles which transfer to the programme will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals.

It is also important to note the programmes' structures may evolve as they reach different phases of delivery. Other roles from Te Poutāhū may be required to join for a period as the programmes identify further project and resource needs.

An Office of the Hautū that continues to support the Hautū, Te Poutāhū and the units within the group to achieve strategic and operational objectives. This includes the acquisition of transition management and project capabilities, and support for the Pou Ārahi – Māori to carry out their functions as a strategic lead.

Developing new names for Te Poutāhū units

Consulting on new unit names

As part of this consultation, there is an opportunity for Te Poutāhū to consider developing new unit names. The names of each unit should best reflect their purpose, intent and the work that they do.

The current names stem back to our days as ELSA. As we are now Te Poutāhū and are considering changes in our design and ways of working, it is also the right time to consider whether these names should be updated. Therefore, we are seeking feedback and suggestions for potential names for the following units:

- Strategy & Integration
- Curriculum, Pathways & Progress
- Secondary Tertiary
- Te Uepū Reo Māori

It is important to note that this consultation does not necessarily mean any names will change — the intent is to give our people the opportunity to shape Te Poutāhū in line with our purpose and what we do. Please feel free to provide suggested alternative names through the various feedback processes for this consultation.

This proposal will continue to refer to the existing unit names for the purpose of this consultation.

Developing ingoa Māori (Māori names) for Te Poutāhū units

This consultation also provides an opportunity to develop ingoa Māori for Te Poutāhū units. The intent is that units will be gifted ingoa Māori with at least equal prominence to their English equivalents. We are working with Te Tuarongo on the best approach to develop these ingoa.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

Under this proposal, the Te Poutāhū leadership team led by the Hautū, Te Poutāhū, would include the following positions:

- Pou Ārahi – Māori - matrixed reporting line to Te Tuarongo
- General Manager, Strategy & Integration (newly proposed)
- General Manager, Curriculum Pathways & Progress (newly proposed)
- General Manager, Te Uepū Reo Māori
- General Manager, Secondary Tertiary
- Group Manager, Office of the Hautū
- Programme Director, NCEA Programme (for the duration of the NCEA Programme)
- Programme Director, Te Marautanga Redesign and NZC Refresh (for the duration of the programmes)

Strategy & Integration

It is proposed that there will be a new Strategy & Integration unit in Te Poutāhū, led by a General Manager, Strategy & Integration.

What is Strategy & Integration and why is it important?

High level purpose

Strategy & Integration is a critical integration point between Te Poutāhū, Te Pae Aronui and Te Mahau takiwā. It develops the strategy on behalf of Te Poutāhū and connects across units so that Te Poutāhū is delivering to its strategic intent and purpose. It works across Te Poutāhū units to manage shared services provided as a collective to the sector, supporting appropriate and equitable use across all education pathways and mediums. It is also the primary connection point for Te Poutāhū to align with Te Pae Aronui and the Te Mahau takiwā, supporting service design, curriculum delivery and integrated work plans to sequence change effectively into the sector.

Key design features

Strategy & Integration will work across Te Poutāhū units, holding close connections to maintain collective alignment as a group. It will develop and track key strategies on behalf of Te Poutāhū, working closely with the Office of the Hautū to do so. The intent is to improve how Te Poutāhū works as a collective to contribute to and execute on strategic priorities, creates and manages its programme of work, and builds common practices.

It sets the direction for innovation and thought leadership that other Te Poutāhū units build on, sharing research and ideas to enable new initiatives to be agreed and operationalised for delivery. This includes setting expectations for Te Poutāhū to improve measures for equitable and inclusive curricula, including insight from iwi relationships with the Te Mahau takiwā.

Strategy & Integration's sector engagement, curriculum delivery and integrated planning and monitoring functions will work with the Change and Implementation team in CPP to align how Te Poutāhū curricula products and services are released into the sector. It will work closely with Te Pae Aronui and the Te Mahau takiwā to plan change releases into the sector across Te Mahau so they are prioritised according to sector readiness.

This unit is also responsible for managing how data and insights from information flows and feedback loops come in from the sector to Te Poutāhū, back through Te Mahau and out again. It will collate information directly from the sector through the Te Mahau takiwā about how Te Poutāhū products and services are received by the sector.

Strategy & Integration will monitor the effectiveness of the curriculum products and services of Te Poutāhū using its connections across other units. It will feed insights it receives into relevant Te Poutāhū units so they can update or make changes as required. This function is placed close to strategy to directly inform future strategy development, design and delivery.

Strategy & Integration will build an integrated view of the work planned across the units and programmes in Te Poutāhū, so that the Hautū and group can better plan and prioritise work.

Forming Strategy & Integration

Strategy & Integration is formed from curriculum delivery teams from CPP and some existing roles in Te Poutāhū which are moved into its proposed new teams.

Curriculum, Pathways & Progress

It is proposed that there will be a Curriculum Pathways & Progress (CPP) unit in Te Poutāhū, led by a General Manager, CPP.

What is Curriculum, Pathways & Progress and why is it important?

High level purpose

Curriculum Pathways & Progress designs curriculum products and services for the New Zealand Curriculum and Te Whāriki, and supports curriculum design for Te Marautanga o Aotearoa as required.

Key design features

CPP is refocused on designing New Zealand Curriculum and Te Whāriki products and services for Te Poutāhū. This includes functions for Early Learning and Pacific Learning for those curricula. The intent is that CPP continues to build deep curriculum design capability and change and implementation capability by clarifying roles, accountabilities and performance expectations for CPP's people.

CPP will work in tandem with Strategy & Integration's shared services to deliver as part of a joined-up Te Poutāhū. Strategy & Integration's equity, inclusivity and data functions will support CPP to design products and services that are equitable and inclusive and informed by sector insights. Strategy & Integration's sector capability, sector engagement and curriculum delivery functions will be a key connection point for delivering CPP's work into the sector in line with the wider Te Mahau. This includes CPP's change and implementation function for new business processes and practice models for curriculum development, so that these are timed and delivered to the sector where and when it is best for the sector to receive them.

CPP would primarily work through Strategy & Integration to link in with the wider Te Mahau takiwā and into the sector. The intent is to channel most sector engagement using the frontline relationships the Te Mahau takiwā hold (for example, its Directors of Education, Strategic Advisors Māori) as part of a coordinated Te Mahau approach to engaging with the sector. CPP will also support Strategy & Integration to monitor the performance of its products and services and make changes in response to sector feedback.

The GM CPP, and the GM Strategy & Integration, are business owners for the NZC Refresh. Each GM is accountable for different aspects of the change programme. As business owners, they are accountable for setting and monitoring the quality of work produced by the programmes and that they are achieving the agreed outcomes and benefits. They manage key relationships with sector stakeholders and media and are ultimately responsible for signing off on programme deliverables.

The Programme Director for the NZC Refresh looks to the GMs to be the education subject matter experts to sign off programme deliverables. It is critical that the GMs work closely with the Programme Director to achieve programme success.

In future, the intent is for CPP to improve its capability and processes to review, update and continuously improve the curricula on a regular basis. By completing ongoing iterations to curricula content, curricula are kept updated, better managed and maintained, reducing the need for large scale change programmes to update. To do this, some resources will be transferred back to CPP from the programmes as it delivers its different phases.

Forming Curriculum Pathways & Progress

CPP is formed from the existing CPP design teams responsible for curriculum design for the NZC and Te Whāriki, the Change and Implementation team from CPP and the Office of the GM, CPP.

Forming the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign

Some existing CPP teams and roles are proposed to transfer to the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign. People who hold roles which transfer to the programme will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals. After completing their relevant programme delivery requirements, some roles would return to CPP and Te Uepū Reo Māori to manage and maintain the curriculum.

It is important to note NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign structures may evolve as they reach different phases of delivery. Other roles from Te Poutāhū may be required to join for a period as the programmes identify further project and resource needs.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

Under this proposal, the General Manager, Curriculum Pathways & Progress would lead CPP. The CPP leadership team would include the following positions:

- Senior Manager, Office of the General Manager, CPP (existing role)
- Senior Manager, Assessment (existing role)
- Director, Curriculum Design (existing role)
- Manager, Curriculum Change & Implementation (changed role)

Te Uepū Reo Māori

It is proposed that there will be a strengthened Te Uepū Reo Māori unit in Te Poutāhū, led by a General Manager, Te Uepū Reo Māori.

What is Te Uepū Reo Māori and why is it important?

High level purpose

Te Uepū Reo Māori is responsible for supporting the provision of te reo Māori in education across early learning and schooling in both pākehā and Māori medium education. It leads the development and delivery of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa, and supports kaupapa Māori / Māori medium education pathways across all schooling ages.

Key design features

The design shifts Ākonga Māori and Kura Māori functions into Te Uepū Reo Māori so that it is a rūpū that supports pākehā and Māori medium education across all schooling ages. The intent is for Te Uepū Reo Māori to have an end-to-end focus on Māori medium and strengthen its capacity and capability (including its existing deep mātauranga Māori expertise) to support te reo Māori across all curricula.

The design proposes to establish two groupings from existing teams around Curriculum Design and Curriculum Service Delivery.

Curriculum Service Delivery brings together Mātauranga Māori, Achievement, Professional Capability and Leadership (APCL) and Curriculum Implementation, led by a proposed Director, Service Delivery. This team will focus on identifying innovative ways of bringing Marautanga Māori into implementation of the curricula. This includes building professional capability in educators to improve teaching and learning, providing resources and support, and testing new ideas around curriculum – kura whānau reo. This team will work closely with Strategy & Integration and CPP to align on delivery into the sector.

Curriculum Design brings together teams Curriculum Design, Foundational Learning and Aromatawai, led by the Director, Curriculum Design. This team will focus on initiatives to localise curricula, develop tools for Māori medium education and uplift curriculum design capability in Te Uepū Reo Māori.

Te Uepū Reo Māori will work in tandem with Strategy & Integration's shared services to deliver as part of a joined up Te Poutāhū. Strategy & Integration's equity, inclusivity and data functions will support Te Uepū Reo Māori to design products and services that are equitable, inclusive and informed by sector insights. Strategy & Integration's sector capability, sector engagement and curriculum delivery functions will be a key connection point for delivering Te Uepū Reo Māori work into the sector in line with the wider Te Mahau. Te Uepū Reo Māori will also support Strategy & Integration to monitor the performance of its products and services and make changes in response to sector feedback.

Te Uepū Reo Māori would primarily work through Strategy & Integration to link in with the wider Te Mahau takiwā and into the sector. The intent is to channel most sector engagement using the frontline relationships the Te Mahau takiwā hold (for example, the relationships Strategic Advisors Māori hold with iwi) as part of a coordinated Te Mahau approach to engaging with the sector.

The GM Te Uepū Reo Māori is a business owner for Te Marautanga o Aotearoa redesign and parts of the NCEA programme. The GM is accountable for different aspects of the change programme. As a business owner, they are accountable for setting and monitoring the quality of work produced by the programmes and that they are achieving the agreed outcomes and benefits. They manage key relationships with sector stakeholders and media and are ultimately responsible for signing off on programme deliverables.

The Programme Director for the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga o Aotearoa redesign will report to the Hautū, Te Poutāhū (who is the programme's Senior Responsible Officer). The Programme Director looks to the GMs to be the education subject matter experts to sign off programme deliverables. It is critical that the GMs work closely with the Programme Director to achieve programme success.

Forming Te Uepū Reo Māori

The redesigned Te Uepū Reo Māori is formed from the existing Te Uepū Reo Māori teams and the existing Ākonga Māori and the Kura Māori implementation teams from Secondary Tertiary.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

	Te Uepū Reo Māori leads how Te Poutāhū supports the provision of Te reo Māori across all our curricula. Shifting resources and responsibility for te reo Māori in senior schooling builds on this so that we have one unit leading te reo Māori across all schooling ages. # New Zealand Curriculum Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign

It is proposed that there will be a separate programme structure in Te Poutāhū to deliver the NZC Refresh and Te Maturanga o Aotearoa redesign, led by a Programme Director.

More information about the types of programme and business as usual roles and how they work together can be found in the attachment to this page.

What is the New Zealand Curriculum Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign and why is it important?

High level purpose

The NZC Refresh is set out to deliver on Cabinet direction to “...make sure every child experiences success in their learning, and that their progress and achievement is responded to and celebrated.”

Te Marautanga o Aotearoa aspires to “... develop successful learners who will grow as competent and confident learners, effective communicators in the Māori world, healthy of mind, body, and solid and secure in their identity and sense of belonging.” They will have the skills and knowledge to participate in and contribute to Māori society and the wider world.

Te Marautanga o Aotearoa identifies how this vision links to the learning environment for children in Māori medium schools.

Key design features

The NZC Refresh and the redesign of Te Maturanga o Aotearoa will be established as a completely separate programme structure to CPP and Te Uepū Reo Māori. This means its people will be directed by project roles for day-to-day work and for HR processes and approvals. Te Uepū Reo Māori will continue to source services from external market experts to design curricula products and services as required. Management of the contractual arrangements for these providers will be shift to the programme in future.

The design intends to improve programme governance, management and discipline to deliver the outcomes directed by Cabinet in a quality and timely manner. It also supports the people working in the programme to have clear, defined, singular accountability to prioritise delivery of its work.

The Programme Director, (formerly Programme Manager) will report to the Hautū, Te Poutāhū (who is the programme’s Senior Responsible Officer). The Programme Director leads delivery of the programme.

The GM CPP and the GM Strategy & Integration are the business owners of the NZC Refresh. The GM, Te Uepū Reo Māori is the business owner for Te Marautanga o Aotearoa redesign. As business owners, they are accountable for setting and monitoring the quality of work produced by the programmes and that the programmes are achieving the agreed outcomes and benefits. They manage key relationships with sector stakeholders and media and are ultimately responsible for signing off on programme deliverables.

The Programme Director looks to the GMs to be the education subject matter experts to sign off programme deliverables. It is critical that the GMs work closely with the Programme Director to achieve programme success.

Forming the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign

The programme is formed from existing CPP teams delivering the Online Curriculum Hub (OCH), Records of Learning (ROL), NZC projects, and some roles from Te Uepū Reo Māori.

Some existing CPP and Te Uepū Reo Māori teams and roles are proposed to transfer to the programme as required. People who hold roles which transfer to the programme will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals. After completing their relevant programme delivery requirements, some roles would return to their relevant unit to manage and maintain the curriculum.

It is important to note the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign structures may evolve as they reach different phases of delivery. Other roles from Te Poutāhū may be required to join for a period of time as the programmes identify further project and resource needs.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

Under this proposal, the Programme Director would lead the delivery of the NZC Refresh and Te Marautanga Redesign. The Programme leadership team would include the following positions:

- Manager Online Curriculum Hub (existing role, reporting line change)
- Manager Records of Learning (existing fixed term role)
- Senior Manager New Zealand Curriculum (existing role, reporting line change)
- Senior Project Manager (existing fixed term role)
- Manager PDO (existing fixed term role)

Secondary Tertiary

It is proposed there will be a Secondary Tertiary unit in Te Poutāhū, led by a General Manager, Secondary Tertiary.

What is Secondary Tertiary and why is it important?

High level purpose

Secondary Tertiary is focussed on increasing achievement, retention and progression of secondary-school aged rangatahi into further learning, training or work. Secondary Tertiary supports the provision of a range of learning opportunities including making better use of the education network for schools, as well as creating the link to clear pathways from school to work and further study or training.

Key design features

The intent in resetting Secondary Tertiary is to refocus it on developing support options for secondary-school aged rangatahi into further study, training or work. This facilitates role clarity, accountability and performance for Secondary Tertiary's people.

Secondary Tertiary will work in tandem with Strategy & Integration's shared services to deliver as part of a joined-up Te Poutāhū. Strategy & Integration's equity, inclusivity and data functions will support Secondary Tertiary to design products and services that are equitable and inclusive and informed by sector insights. Strategy & Integration's sector capability, sector engagement and curriculum delivery functions will be a key connection point for delivering Secondary Tertiary work into the sector in line with the wider Te Mahau.

Secondary Tertiary would primarily work through Strategy & Integration to link in with the wider Te Mahau takiwā. The intent is to channel most sector engagement using the frontline relationships the Te Mahau takiwā hold (for example, its Directors of Education, Strategic Advisors Māori) as part of a coordinated Te Mahau approach to engaging with the sector. Secondary Tertiary will also support Strategy & Integration to monitor the performance of its products and services and make changes in response to sector feedback.

The GM Secondary Tertiary is the business owner for the majority of the NCEA Programme. As the business owner, the GM is accountable for setting and monitoring the quality of work produced by the programme and that the programme is achieving the agreed outcomes and benefits. The business owner manages key relationships with sector stakeholders and media and is ultimately responsible for signing off on programme deliverables.

The Programme Director NCEA looks to the GM to be the education subject matter expert who is able to sign off programme deliverables. It is critical that the GM works closely with the Programme Director to achieve programme success.

In future, the intent is for Secondary Tertiary to improve its capability and processes to review, update and continuously improve the curricula on a regular basis. By completing ongoing iterations to curricula content, curricula are kept updated, better managed and maintained, reducing the need for large scale change programmes to update. To do this, some resources will be transferred back to Secondary Tertiary from the NCEA Programme as it delivers its different phases.

Forming Secondary Tertiary

Secondary Tertiary is formed from the existing Group Manager Business Unit (GMBU - renamed Office of the GM, Secondary Tertiary), some roles from Senior Secondary, Implementation - Kura Auraki, Transition & Pathways and advisory roles.

Note, some positions from within existing teams are proposed to be transferred to the NCEA Programme.

It is proposed that Ākonga Māori capability and Kura Māori implementation capability moves from Secondary Tertiary to Te Uepū Reo Māori to augment existing capability in that unit.

Forming the NCEA Programme

Some existing Secondary Tertiary teams and roles are proposed to transfer to the NCEA Programme as required by the programme. Roles which transfer to the NCEA Programme will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals. After completing their relevant programme delivery requirements, some roles would return to Secondary Tertiary to manage and maintain the curriculum.

It is important to note the NCEA Programme structure may evolve as it reaches different phases of delivery. Other roles may be required to join for a period as the programmes identify further project and resource needs.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

Under this proposal, the General Manager, Secondary Tertiary would lead Secondary Tertiary. The Secondary Tertiary leadership team would include the following positions:

- Manager, Office of the GM, Secondary Tertiary (existing role)
- Senior Manager, Senior Secondary (existing role)
- Chief Advisor, Secondary Tertiary (existing role)
- Chief Advisor (existing role)
- Principal Advisor (existing role)
- Principal Advisor (existing role)
- Senior Manager, Implementation Kura Auraki (existing vacancy)
- Chief Advisor, Implementation (existing vacancy)
- Manager, Transition & Pathways (existing role)

NCEA Programme

It is proposed that there will be a NCEA Programme structure in Te Poutāhū, led by a Programme Director, NCEA.

More information about the types of programme and business as usual roles and how they work together can be found in attachment to this page.

What is the NCEA Programme and why is it important?

High level purpose

The NCEA Programme is required to deliver on Cabinet direction to “deliver the package of seven changes aimed at strengthening NCEA.”

Key design features

The NCEA Programme is established as a completely separate structure to Secondary Tertiary. This means its people will be directed by project roles for day-to-day work and for HR processes and approvals.

The design intends to improve programme governance, management and discipline to deliver the outcomes directed by Cabinet in a quality and timely manner. It also supports the people working for the NCEA Programme to have clear, defined, singular accountability to prioritise delivery of its work.

The Programme Director will report to the Hautū, Te Poutāhū (who is the programme’s Senior Responsible Officer). The Programme Director will lead delivery of the programme. The Programme Director looks to the GM to be the education subject matter expert, able to sign off programme deliverables. It is critical that the GM works closely with the Programme Director to achieve programme success.

The GM Secondary Tertiary and the GM Te Uepū Reo Māori are the business owners for the NCEA Programme. As business owners, the GMs are accountable for setting and monitoring the quality of work produced by the programme and that it is achieving the agreed outcomes and benefits. As business owners, the GMs manage key relationships with sector stakeholders and media and are ultimately responsible for signing off on programme deliverables.

In some instances, where appropriate and agreed by programme leadership, programme people can support business as usual work in Secondary Tertiary. This prioritises the delivery of the NCEA Programme and allows flexibility to use programme capability if required.

Forming the NCEA Programme

The NCEA Programme is formed from existing Secondary Tertiary teams which are proposed to transfer to the NCEA Programme as required by the programme.

Some existing Secondary Tertiary teams and roles are proposed to transfer to the NCEA Programme as required by the programme. Roles which transfer to the NCEA Programme will be directed by project roles for their day-to-day project work and for HR processes and approvals. After completing their relevant programme delivery requirements, some roles would return to Secondary Tertiary to manage and maintain the curriculum.

He aha ngā panonitanga matua kei te tāpaetia | What are the main changes proposed?

Under this proposal, the Programme Director, NCEA would lead the NCEA Programme's delivery. The NCEA Programme leadership team would include the following positions:

- Programme Advisor (fixed term role)
- Manager Agile Teams (fixed term role - newly proposed)
- Project Managers x6 (fixed term roles)
- Manager Programme Director's Office (fixed term - newly proposed)
- Release Train Engineer (existing contract role)

Office of the Hautū

It is proposed that there will be an Office of the Hautū (the Office) in Te Poutāhū, led by our Group Manager, Office of the Hautū.

What is the Office of the Hautū and why is it important?

High level purpose

The Office of the Hautū supports the Hautū, Te Poutāhū and its units to achieve strategic and operational objectives. This includes the temporary acquisition of transition management and project capabilities to boost internal capability. The Office provides increased support to the Pou Ārahi – Māori to carry out its functions as a strategic lead.

Key design features

The proposed design intends to support the Pou Ārahi – Māori through the Office of the Hautū to build practice development resources to support an uplift in te ao Māori and te Tiriti o Waitangi capability across Te Poutāhū.

The design also establishes temporary project capability (outside of the NZC Refresh, Te Marautanga Redesign and NCEA Programme) to support business case development and provide assurance for Te Poutāhū projects. The intent is to improve project skills, capabilities and practices to improve overall project discipline across Te Poutāhū.

The Office's Investment & Planning function will continue to lead investment management and operationalise planning and management initiatives for Te Poutāhū, including the Statement of Intent (SOI) and leading the annual business planning process. It is important to note that this function is clearly delineated for internal Te Poutāhū performance planning and monitoring only. Strategy & Integration holds functions to develop Te Poutāhū strategy and monitor the effectiveness of curricula products and services.

Forming the Office of the Hautū

The Office of the Hautū is formed from the existing Office teams, with some role changes.
